PASTOR'S COLUMN

Last week, on July 31, 2025, the Holy Father Pope Leo XIV confirmed St. John Henry Newman as a "Doctor of the Church."

Nearly two hundred years ago, John Henry Newman was England's most well-known Anglican priest until he risked everything to become a Catholic. Before his conversion, Newman had a prestigious and lucrative professorship at Oxford University. During his professorship, Newman began to hear God's call to full communion in the Catholic Church. Due to Oxford's religious affiliations, Newman knew that he would lose his job if he became Catholic, but, through his study of doctrine and personal prayer, he became convinced that God was calling him to take all necessary steps toward full communion in the Catholic Church. Newman became Catholic on October 9, 1845. October 9 is now his Feast Day.

His holiness of life was evident in his lifetime: he willingly bore the consequences of becoming Catholic. Newman faced professional, social, and even familial consequences due to his conversion. It is said that his own sister never spoke to him again.

Newman was ordained a priest, then named a Cardinal in 1879. Three years after Newman died in 1890, a Newman Club for Catholic students began at the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia. Now, many public and private colleges and universities in the United States boast Catholic "Newman Centers" for campus ministries.

His cause of canonization was opened in 1950. After recognizing miracles attributed to his intercession, Newman was beatified by Pope Benedict XVI in 2010, and was canonized by Pope Francis in 2019.

In declaring him one of the now 38 "Doctors of the Church," Pope Leo further draws our attention to his life and theological writings. The title "doctor of the Church" recognizes those canonized men and women who possessed profound knowledge, were superb teachers, and contributed significantly to the Church's theology.

Newman wrote 40 books and 21,000 letters that survive. Most famous are his book-length Essay on the Development of Christian Doctrine, On Consulting the Faithful in Matters of Doctrine, Apologia Pro Vita Sua—his spiritual autobiography up to 1864—and Essay on the Grammar of Assent.

Consider the words of Pope Benedict XVI at Newman's beatification: Cardinal Newman's motto, Cor ad cor loquitur, or "Heart speaks unto heart," gives us an insight into his understanding of the Christian life as a call to holiness, experienced as the profound desire of the human heart to enter into intimate communion with the Heart of God. He reminds us that faithfulness to prayer gradually transforms us into the divine likeness. As he wrote in one of his many fine sermons, "a habit of prayer, the practice of turning to God and the unseen world in every season, in every place, in every emergency – prayer, I say, has what may be called a natural effect in spiritualizing and elevating the soul."

St. John Henry Newman, doctor of the Church, pray for us, that we may be conformed to the Sacred Heart of Christ.
