PASTOR'S COLUMN

On The Feast of Padre Pio, on September 23, the Collect Prayer for Mass asked God: "Grant that through his intercession we may be united constantly to the sufferings of Christ, and so brought happily to the glory of The Resurrection."

Someone asked me, in reference to that Collect Prayer: "Why would anyone pray that we would constantly be united to the sufferings of Christ?" I think that is a great question because it touches upon some fundamentals of the Christian life.

Christians do not seek suffering for its own sake. Pain is not good simply because it hurts, and God does not delight in our misery. Jesus spent much of His ministry relieving suffering by healing the sick, feeding the hungry, consoling the grieving, and freeing people from affliction.

So why would we pray to be united to Christ's sufferings?

First, Jesus Himself makes the Cross part of discipleship: "If anyone wishes to come after me, he must deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me." We are not told to manufacture crosses, but when suffering comes through illness, grief, sacrifice, persecution, or the cost of doing what is right, we are called to carry it with Christ rather than apart from Him.

Second, to be united to Christ's suffering is really to be united to the love revealed in His suffering. What makes Calvary holy is not the nails or the scourging considered in themselves, but the love with which Christ endured them. "No one has greater love than this, to lay down one's life for one's friends." To pray for union with the Cross is to pray: Lord, teach me to love as You loved when love becomes costly.

Third, contemplating and sharing in Christ's suffering makes us more sensitive to the suffering of others. Jesus identifies Himself with the hungry, the sick, the stranger, and the imprisoned: "Whatever you did for one of these least brothers of mine, you did for me." Authentic devotion to the Crucified should therefore make us more merciful, more compassionate, and more willing to remain close to those who suffer.

Finally, suffering united to Christ can become spiritually fruitful. Saint Paul writes, "I rejoice in my sufferings for your sake," and speaks of sharing in Christ's afflictions for the sake of His Body, the Church. Christ's sacrifice is complete and sufficient; we add nothing to it. But He allows us to participate in its fruits. This is what Catholics mean by "offering it up": Placing our suffering in Christ's hands so that even our pain may become prayer for others.

"So the prayer is not: "Lord, make me suffer." It is: "Lord, whatever suffering comes, do not let it separate me from You. Unite it to Your Cross. Teach me to love through it. Make me more compassionate. And use even this for the good of souls."
