PASTOR'S COLUMN

One of the “Saints of June” is St. Aloysius Gonzaga whose feast day is June 21. St. Aloysius was born into a noble family in Renaissance Italy. 16th-century Florence was not very different from 21st-century America. It was a lax, morally corrupt, self-indulgent culture. At the young age of 7, Aloysius vowed not to be part of it.

By age 11, St. Aloysius was teaching catechism to poor children, fasting three days a week and practicing great penances. After reading a book about Jesuit missionaries in India, St. Aloysius announced his desire to be a priest in the Society of Jesus.

In 1591, a catastrophic plague struck Rome and the Jesuits opened up a hospital. The young Jesuit novice, Aloysius, nursed patients, carried them on his shoulders, washed them, and made their beds. As a result of his tireless care of the sick, Aloysius caught the disease himself. He was overcome with a great fever and died at the age of 23 in 1591. His holiness was so evident that he was beatified by Pope Paul V in 1605.

St. Aloysius Gonzaga is a patron saint of Catholic youth and teenagers—a reminder to young people to not give-in to the temptations of the culture—“to be IN the world, but not OF the world.” Like young people, we all face social pressures. St. Aloysius reminds us to have courage to stand firm in the faith against the tides of society which are antithetical to the Gospel.

St. Aloysius’ example of service is a reminder to young people and to all of us that we find meaning and fulfillment in the service of others. Due to his willingness to put himself in direct contact with plague victims, St. Aloysius was also named patron saint of those with HIV and AIDS and their caregivers.

St. Aloysius is often shown in sacred art and statues as a young man wearing the black cassock of the Jesuits and contemplating a crucifix. He contemplated the suffering of Our Lord, and considered how he, too, was called to suffer in order to further the kingdom of God. The young saint, once said, “He who wishes to love God does not truly love Him if he has not an ardent and constant desire to suffer for his sake.”

Our Blessed Lord on the cross willingly embraced suffering for our good, and the Saints teach us by their example the importance of imitating Jesus in His self-sacrifice. Doing good, accomplishing good, furthering the kingdom, bringing souls to God, involves some suffering on our part. Will you willingly embrace that suffering if it is God’s will for you?

Through the intercession of St. Aloysius, may each of us consider how God is calling us to pour ourselves out in service of the kingdom, for the glory of God and salvation of souls.

Catholics and Independence Day

For most Americans, July 4th is a celebration of freedom and national pride. For Catholics, it carries an even deeper meaning. Independence Day marks the moment when a long-persecuted minority finally gained the freedom to worship openly in the new United States, and with that freedom came the ability to fulfill Christ's command: "Go into all the world and preach the Gospel to the whole creation."

Before the Revolution, Catholics in the colonies faced harsh discrimination. Public Masses were restricted or banned, Catholic schools were illegal, and Catholics were barred from public office. Suspicion and prejudice were common. Catholics made up less than two percent of the population. Yet even in this climate, God raised up leaders who helped shape both the nation and the Church.

One of them was Charles Carroll of Carrollton, the only Catholic signer of the Declaration of Independence. Carroll believed the new nation could protect liberty for all, including Catholics who had long been treated as outsiders. His signature stands as a powerful reminder that Catholics, too, helped build the American experiment.

His cousin, John Carroll, would become the father of the Catholic Church in the United States. After the Revolution, American Catholics no longer wished to be governed by Church authorities in London. In an historic decision, Pope Pius VI asked American priests to elect their own bishop, something unheard of at the time. Twenty-four of twenty-six priests chose Father John Carroll. On November 6, 1789, the pope confirmed the election and established the Diocese of Baltimore, covering more than 3 million square miles and serving roughly 40,000 Catholics.

Bishop Carroll founded schools and seminaries, welcomed religious communities, and helped unify Catholics. His leadership laid the foundation for a vibrant Catholic presence in the new nation.

For Catholics today, Independence Day is more than a civic holiday. It is a reminder that religious liberty is a gift, one that allows us to worship freely, to teach openly, and to share the Gospel across our land. It is a day to give thanks for the freedom that enables us to live our faith and to bring Christ's truth to the world.

Catholic Patriotism: Love of God and Love of Country June 30 - 6pm - Sacred Heart of Jesus Parish

Join us for a timely presentation exploring how faithful Catholics can live both their love for God and their love for our country.

With our nation's 250th anniversary quickly approaching, Kishore Jayabalan, assistant director of the Center for Civics, Culture and Society at Cleveland State University, drawing on the riches of Catholic Social Teaching, will show how the Gospel applies to every age, why the human person must remain at the center of any political order, and how the universal call to holiness shapes our civic life.

All are welcome to this enriching evening of faith, history, and hope. Come deepen your understanding of what it means to be a Catholic patriot-loving God above all, while serving our country well.
